EXTEND ARMISTICE UNTIL FEB. 1ST

This Announcement Expected Shortly Because of Delayed Peace Conference—To Be No Secrecy or Mystery In Plans or Decisions.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 25—Extension of the armistice between Germany and the United States and Entente nations until February 1 shortly will be announced. This action is necessary inasmuch as it now appears certain that the initial sessions of the peace conference will be delayed.

The preliminary conferences, for which President Wilson is going abroad next week, will of necessity be of the utmost importance. They are expected to result in a general agreement between the four great nations that must dictate the terms of peace—the United States, Great Britain, France and Italy—so that there will be no friction at the actual peace conference. And these preliminary conferences, which will begin about the middle of December, will rob Germany of her greatest trump card—the hope that the ranks of the Allies will be split and enable Germany to trade instead of accepting a dictated peace.

With Secretary of State Lansing and Secretary to the President Tumulty back in Washington today the finishing touches were being put upon the president's program.

Officials today were inclined to resent the suggestions that the administration is injecting mystery into its plans for the coming peace conference. Nothing could be farther from the truth, they say. Attention was called to the attitude that Germany all along had adopted in dealing with her opponents. She has consistently tried to array France against England and England against the United States and vice versa and today that attitude is even more apparent than it was during the progress of the war. The only hope that Germany has of saving anything from the wreck of her ambitions, administration leaders declared today, will be in securing a disagreement between the "big four" of the peace conference. It was because he realized this fact [illegible] sent his invitation to President Wilson to "sit at my side" and thrash out the problems of peace. Premier Lloyd George also concurred in the invitation for the selfsame reason.

To Make Program Public.

Meeting in the closely guarded headquarters in the palace at Versailles the "big four" will be able to exchange opinions and draft their program without any outside interference. And when the program is arranged a complete statement will be forthcoming for the benefit of the American people. There will be no secret diplomacy, officials again asserted with great emphasis today, the subject at issue is too great and means too much to the people of the world to have it settled through round table procedure. But it is absolutely necessary that the viewpoint of the "spokesmen for democracy," as the president and the Allied premiers were today aptly termed, should be secured without acrimonious debate, and such debate hardly could be avoided if the representatives of the great Allied powers entered the peace conference without previously having reached a basis of common understanding. Officials here believe that a complete agreement on the big questions involved in the creation of a league of nations and how the "freedom of the seas" shall be assured is possible. They say that there is a complete understanding on both subjects in the abstract and that the points subject to argument are of detail only. It will not refuire any lengthy discussion in British opinion to reach an agreement and then the work of the peace conference will be plain sailing.

GERMAN CRISIS LOOMS LARGER

Liebknecht's Spartacus Group Reported to Have Overthrown Ebert's Government—Turmoil in Berlin—Food Situation Satisfactory.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Nov. 25.—The whole control of Germany is now in the hands of the Berlin workmen's and soldiers' council and a proclamation to that effect has been issued.

Latest reports from Germany indicate that the internal situation there has reached a critical stage.

The proclamation states that the council at Berlin will provisionally govern Germany in order to suppress all counter revolutionary attempts and a congress of workmen and soldiers will be summoned as soon as possible though at present there is no talk about a national assembly.

The decision has caused tremendous excitement throughout Germany and the final result is that an independent republic has been formed in northern Germany with Hamburg as the capital.

This republic includes Oldenburg, East Friesland, Bremen, Hamburg and Schleswig-Holstein.

South Germany—Wurttemburg and Baden, as well as Bavaria—are declaring they will not submit to the terrorism of the dictators in Berlin, who have replaced the Kaiser and militarism.

London, Nov. 25.—German Radicals, led by Carl Liebknecht, have overthrown the republican government at Berlin, headed by Chancellor Frederick Ebert, according to advices from Berne and Copenhagen to the Sketch today

Turmoil prevails in the German capital, the dispatches said.

(The followers of Liebknecht are known as the Spartacus group and are in sympathy with the Russian Bolsheviki.)

The Spartacus group is in complete control of Dusseldorf, Seligem and Ramscheid where they have arrested the officials, a dispatch to the Daily Mail stated.

There has been bloody fighting in Berlin.

The Copenhagen correspondent of the Central News wires that the central government at Berlin called many troops to that city and that the down town buildings are packed with soldiers.

Earlier advices said that stores of ammunition were collected in Berlin for use against the extremists, but that the city was quiet on Saturday, following a two day burst of fighting when the Bolsheviki attempted a coup.

The German internal situation is highly critical and a military coup d'etat is almost certain unless the returning troops vigorously support the Berlin government, said a Munich dispatch to the Daily News.

The Rotterdam correspondent of the Daily News quotes the German war food department as saying that the food situation is satisfactory. Belief is expressed, adds the correspondent, that General Barth and German politicians exaggerated the peril to obtain an easy and speedy peace.

On the other hand, the Copenhagen correspondent of the Central News reported Berlin advices as saying that the Pope has appealed to Anglo-French episcopates and the French government for a modification of the armistice "in view of the famine in the Rhine districts."

Kurt Eisner, head of the Bavarian republic, was quoted in dispatches as saying that Bolshevism or a Berlin dictatorship would result in the rupture of Bavaria. He favored a split up into ten German republics having equal authority and rights.

Strikes have broken out in the coal fields of upper Silesia.

ABOUT 14 CASES OF TYPHOID HERE

The Health Authorities are Using Every Effort to Trace Source of Disease—Dr. Laidlaw Assisting Local Board.

So far about 14 cases of typhoid fever have developed in Kingston, and all of the cases are thought to have resulted from the use of milk delivered by a farmer. The health authorities promptly took steps to make the farmer have his milk pasteurized. This it is claimed will kill the typhoid germs and make the milk safe to drink.

Dr. Laidlaw, the state sanitary inspector of this district, is in Kingston working in conjunction with the health authorities, and it is not thought that there will be an epidemic as every effort is being made to hold the typhoid in check.

Sunday afternoon Norman Carl, a typhoid patient, was removed from No. 49 O'Neil street to the Kingston City Hospital in the ambulance.

It is expected that the health authorities will make public a statement as to the cause of the disease as soon as any definite information can be obtained.

FINED $700 FOR PARTRIDGE RAID

Jacob Goedtel, Broadway Butcher, Caught With Illegal Bag—Is Old Offender, Says Conservation Commission.

Albany, Nov. 24.—One man who has had a part in causing the present scarcity of partridges, but who is now properly repentant, is Jacob Goedtel, of Kingston, N. Y., who has just paid to the Conservation Commission a fine of $700 in settlement of his latest raid upon the wild life of the woods.

According to Llewellyn Legge, chief of the division of fish and game of the conservation commission, Goedtel has long been known as a flagrant violator of the game laws and has once before paid a fine. His last, and most expensive hunting trip came to a sudden end when he fell into a trap set by Special Agent Speenberg, of the state game protective force, while in the possession of fourteen partridges, ten gray squirrels, one woodcock and two cotton tail rabbits.

It appears, according to statements made by the commission, that Goedtel was in the habit of making frequent hunting trips into the Catskill mountains, returning after night fall with his booty by automobile to his butcher shop in Kingston. As a result of shadowing him for some time, Special Agent Speenberg knew where he was hunting and when he expected to return. Upon that evening he drove to meet Goedtel along a lonely road leading from the mountains, which was the only route Goedtel could take in returning to Kingston, and on a narrow bridge Speenberg stalled his car in such a position that no one could pass. About 9 o'clock an automobile approached, which Speenberg hailed under guise of asking for a pair of pliers. Goedtel and his dog were in the car and Speenberg, showing his badge, demanded the right to search the car. A box upon the seat contained the "bag," which in partridges alone was twelve more birds than may legally be taken in one day and four more than may legally be taken in the entire hunting season.

Goedtel admitted that he was familiar with the conservation law and was caught red-handed in its violation, but nevertheless attempted in every possible way to avoid the penalty. Saturday, however, he paid $700 to close the case.

DELEGATES TO THE BOYS CONFERENCE

Here November 29 are Dependent on Our Homes for Entertainment—Citizens of Other Towns Have Done This for Kingston Boys.

The sessions of Older Boys' Conference for Christian Service Vocation to be held in Kingston the three days following Thanksgiving will be conducted in the Elmendorf Street Presbyterian Church. Headquarters of the conference is the Y. M. C. A. The delegates will meet there Friday afternoon and register and then proceed to the church for the first session at 5 p. m. The address at this session will be by Prof. S. R. Shear, superintendent of schools, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. His topic will be "Principle Which Should Determine Choice of Vocation." At 6:30 supper will be served to the delegates by the Woman's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. The principal speaker at this supper will be Rev. C. O. Judkins, D. D., of Glens Falls, N. Y. His address will be "Why Enter Christian Service as a Life Work?"

About one hundred older boy delegates are expected to attend this three days' conference. The churches have been asked to furnish entertainment in the homes of their congregation. This will consist of lodgings Friday and Saturday nights and breakfast and evening meal Saturday and breakfast and noon meal on Sunday. The reports from the churches of the number of people offering to open their homes to the delegates are very poor. Kingston boys for several years have been welcomed in the homes of other cities when they attended conferences and it is hoped that the welcome of Kingston will be extended to these delegates and that the church people will open their homes.

The hospitality committee, of which Munroe Kurger is chairman, must have the names of those who can take delegates by Tuesday night. A 'phone call to the Y. M. C. A. will be greatly appreciated. Leave name, address and church attended. Surely Kingston will take care of one hundred delegates.

The funeral of Miss Treselona will be held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock from the family residence and at 9:30 o'clock, from St. Mary's Church, with interment in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Hospital Auxiliary Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Kingston City Hospital, will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the board room of the hospital. MONROE DEMOCRATIC LEADER ARRESTED

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 25.—Robert A. Butler, Democratic state committeeman from Monroe county and former candidate for assembly, is under arrest here on a charge of complicity in the theft of thousands of dollars worth of cloth and clothing from the local factories of Rosenberg Bros. and Levy Bros. The arrest of Butler, following that of John McCafferty and Robert B. Broscoe, on the same charge, has caused a sensation in Democratic political circles. When grilled at police headquarters he is said to have confessed.

The goods stolen here were taken in automobiles to Buffalo where the gang had a "fence." Arrests in that city are looked for as a result of this admission. Butler formerly was employed as a conductor on the Lehigh Valley Railroad and he is also suspected of complicity in the theft of merchandise from that line.

PERSHING TRIBUTE DRIVE UNDER WAY

Ex-Mayor William D. Brinnier, county chairman of the War Stamp campaign has received the following letter, and states that it looks as if success is at hand. It only remains for each and every one to do their utmost and buy W. S. S. to their limit. The letter follows:

Hon. Wm. D. Brinnier, County Chairman W. S. S.:

Dear Sir:—The Thanksgiving Pershing Tribute drive in War Savings Stamps, each purchaser to have his or her name enrolled in the scroll to be sent over to General Pershing and the boys over there, is now under way with colors flying. The first reports indicate great progress in Kingston, many having already signed the Pershing pledge or the Victory post card. I am sure the county will do equally well. It does not appear difficult to secure the pledges if the captains and team workers will visit the homes, business places and War Savings societies in each community. The postmasters of Ulster county will assist in every possible way.

Yours for Pershing and his boys,
WM. C. DeWITT,
City Chairman W. S. S. and Central Acting F. M.

MCADOO SILENT ON GOV'T OWNERSHIP

Sticking to R. R. Job to Last and Will State Views on Future of Roads After Study.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 25.—Looking fit enough, though a bit tired, William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury and director general of railroads, was in conference today in Atlanta with officials of the railroads in the southern region, trying to get action in improving traffic conditions. Scores of officials, headed by D. L. Winchell, regional director, attended the conference.

Secretary McAdoo arrived in a private car Sunday afternoon, directly from Washington. Asked if he were trying to put things in shape for his successor on January 1, Mr. McAdoo said.

"I trust things already are in shape, but this trip I am sticking to the job until the day I leave it. Just because I'm to leave it soon is no reason I should not give it my best until the last minute."

Mr. McAdoo said he was planning a long vacation, a real rest, after his resignation takes effect at the end of the year. He would not, of course, discuss the possibilities as to his successor.

In regard to permanent federal ownership of railroads, he said he had never expressed his views on this policy, but expected to have something to say when he had definitely reached a conclusion. He was trying to gain all the practical experience possible before making a statement, he said.

Mr. McAdoo was accompanied by John Skelton Williams assistant regional director, and other well known railroad men.

The party will go to Milledgeville, Ga., Tuesday.

AMERICAN RED CROSS AIDS ITALIANS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 25.—The long lines of Italian and other Allied soldiers starting off on their victorious march in the last offensive on the Austro-Italian fronts, were followed closely by a highly organized force of American Red Cross workers, ready to care for the battles' killed and wounded.

Reports from American army officers received today at Red Cross headquarters here contained unstinted praise of the services performed by the Red Cross workers in the Italian fighting zones, and give details of the work accomplished.

More than one hundred Red Cross ambulances, busy night and day and constantly under shell fire, were in action during the big advance. One ambulance cared for five hundred wounded soldiers in four days. Red Cross canteens transported special food to the front line trenches. In many cases the canteens reached the trenches before the army supply wagons. The Red Cross had facilities to care for fifty thousand wounded. The lives of many civilians in the liberated areas were saved by the Red Cross, in addition to its military work.

PVT. WELLS DEATH STORY UNFOUNDED

Arrangements For Funeral Not Carried Out As Body Did Not Arrive—Charles Brewer Made Arrangements And Announced Death.

Private George Wells was still alive, and at last reports enjoying good health, notwithstanding that the "news" of his death was reported in The Freeman Saturday with details as to when and where the funeral would be held.

The story of the arrival of the body of Private Wells was given to a Freeman reporter in entire good faith by the Wachmeyer estate who had been engaged to attend the body and arrange for the funeral. That morning a man who said his name was Charles Brewer and that he resided in Esopus, called at the undertaking parlors and made entire arrangements for the funeral of Private Wells, who he said had died on Thursday at Camp Dix. He engaged coaches and a hearse for the funeral and arranged to have the undertaker meet the West Shore train that afternoon and remove the body to his morgue and later to take it to Tillson to the home of Private Wells's aunt, Mrs. Sarah E. Schoonmaker, where the funeral would be held Sunday afternoon 1 o'clock. As the body has not yet arrived, the undertaker doubts the good faith of "Brewer" and has made an investigation which leads him to believe that the man, is known to the Kingston police as the "fit thrower." The nickname was due to the fact that the fit thrower made a practice of coming to Kingston and staging fake fits on the public streets. In former years the police were tender hearted and had him removed to the hospital. They know him better now, however.

WARNING TO BOYS

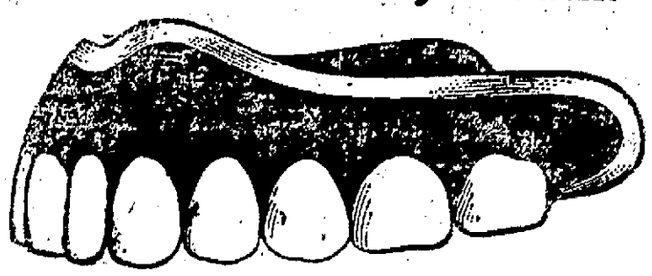

That Hereafter Breaking Electric Globes Will Have Serious Results.

Two boys from Wilbur were brought before Judge Shufeldt this morning to answer the complaint of breaking electric light globes. This practice has grown to such an extent that the electric company find it necessary to enter complaints against the boys, and in the future charges will be preferred against them, and the continuation of the damage will probably result in some of the boys being sent to one of the reformatories until they are 21 years of age.

In the case this morning, at the request of the company, the boys were just warned of the seriousness of the matter and no warrant was requested for their arrest and conviction. Accordingly Judge Shufeldt warned them what it would mean if they were brought up before him again and also what it would mean to any other boys brought up before him on a similar charge as the electric company's representative stated that if any more boys were caught breaking lamps, they would ask him to put on the full penalty.

This should be a warning to any boys who are in the habit of breaking lamps. The breakage during October totalled about $150.

When "Jack" Is Abroad.

The name Jack or John is a very common one and seems to be found in general use in many countries. True it is not spelled and pronounced as we use it in America, however it means the same thing and the "Jack" of our United States will be "Johann" in Bohemia or Sweden, "Jaco" in Portugal, "Jean" in France, "Hans," or "Johannes" in Holland and Germany, "Juan" in Cuba, "Giovanni" in Italy, "Ivan" in Russia, "Jan" in Poland, and "Janos" in Hungary.

Need for Discipline.

The price we must pay for continually moving and possessing the good is eternal vigilance. Often a sort of priceless ineptness in self-assertion, in self-management, sets up its ownership. That is one reason why discipline—submitting ourselves in some ways to the will of others—is good for us all, big and little, young and old. It is the best and often the only means of breaking down the willfulness that is likely to enter any one of us at any moment.—Youth's Companion.

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE TOWN

The Stroller Hears Surprise Expressed at Lack of Interest Shown at Recent Meetings of Civil War Veterans.

"I just read a funny one," remarked the customer, dropping into the barber shop for his usual morning chat.

"What's that?" queried the busy barber.

"I was just looking through a telephone book and I see where they have got our old friend Tom Stenson, the truckman, listed as 'Tome J. Stenson,'" explained the customer with a smile.

"Huh, that is probably due to the volume of business he does," retorted the barber, hastily dodging a wad of paper thrown by the customer.

"I attended the presentation of the Regimental Standard of the old 20th Regiment the other night," said the barber, following a pause in the conversation.

"I read about it in The Freeman," replied the customer.

"One thing that surprised me though," continued the barber thoughtfully, "was the lack of interest shown by the public at large, for there was not over a dozen citizens present in the council chamber."

"And the same lack of interest was displayed by the public at the patriotic services held by Pratt Post to commemorate the 55th anniversary of Lincoln's Gettysburg address," interjected the customer.

"What do you suppose accounts for it?" asked the barber.

"To tell the truth," replied the customer, "I have not given the matter a thought."

"It can't be that the public has forgotten that if it had not been for those gallant boys in blue that we would not be citizens of the greatest country in the world," mused the barber, "and the only way I can account for it is that the public may have grown war weary, and are seeking relaxation in spending the evening quietly at home or at the movies."

SALVAGE BUREAU NOTES.

Not Open Thanksgiving—What May be Bought.

The Red Cross Salvage Bureau is now in full operation and well worth a visit from every man, woman and child in the community. It is located at 666 Broadway and the telephone call is 1572. The bureau is open on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays from 9:30 to 12:30 and from 1:30 to 5. It will also be open on Saturday evenings until 9 o'clock. While the Salvage Bureau will not be open on Thanksgiving Day, those in charge ask that the public do a little of their giving of thanks this year by contributing articles for which they have no use or need to the bureau to be sold for the benefit of the Red Cross. What kind of articles? do you ask. Any and every kind. At present there is a special need for clothing—worn can be well sold—for men and for children. In the latter case, many an outgrown article would be a valued contribution.

If you are very busy you may want to have some idea of what you can buy at the bureau before calling. Household articles, china and crockery, and by the way, another real need is for cups and saucers, so let your odd ones go to the bureau for sale. There are all kinds of bric-a-brac, antique and modern, clocks, old silver, pictures, jewelry, clothing, especially for women, just now; millinery, with some exceptionally noteworthy articles of mourning goods; shoes, for men, women and children; old laces and even a remarkably handsome baby carriage. This list is very partial but may give you a faint notion of what is for sale at the bureau. When you go to buy, be sure and take with you something which you will give to be sold.

ONE OF FIRST SELECTIVES

Honorably Discharged at Dix Was George A. Hoyt.

George A. Hoyt, Kingston, N. Y., was mentioned in the New York Sun, Friday as the fifth man of the first 200 honorably discharged selective draft service men demobilized at Camp Dix, Thursday. The limited service men discharged were addressed by Secretary of War Newton D. Baker and General Peyton G. March, chief of staff. Only such men as are in good physical condition are included in the first lot to return home. Those who fail in their physical tests will be held in the development battalion for a time.

Moran School Notes.

Many business and professional men of this city, handicapped by the illness of their office assistants during the recent epidemic, called upon students and graduates of the Moran Business School for aid. Among them may be mentioned the Herbert Brush Mfg. Co., County Attorney John W. Eckert, Campbell Motor Car Company, County Judge-elect Joseph M. Fowler.

Miss Catherine O'Donnell, of the combined course, has been giving excellent satisfaction as stenographic clerk at the headquarters of the United War Work Campaign, Y. M. C. A. Building, since its inception a few weeks ago.

Thomas Callahan, of the combined course, is supplying as stenographic clerk with Attorney Henry Klein, this city.

Miss Eleanor Halliday, a member of last year's class, has secured a highly satisfactory position in New York city.

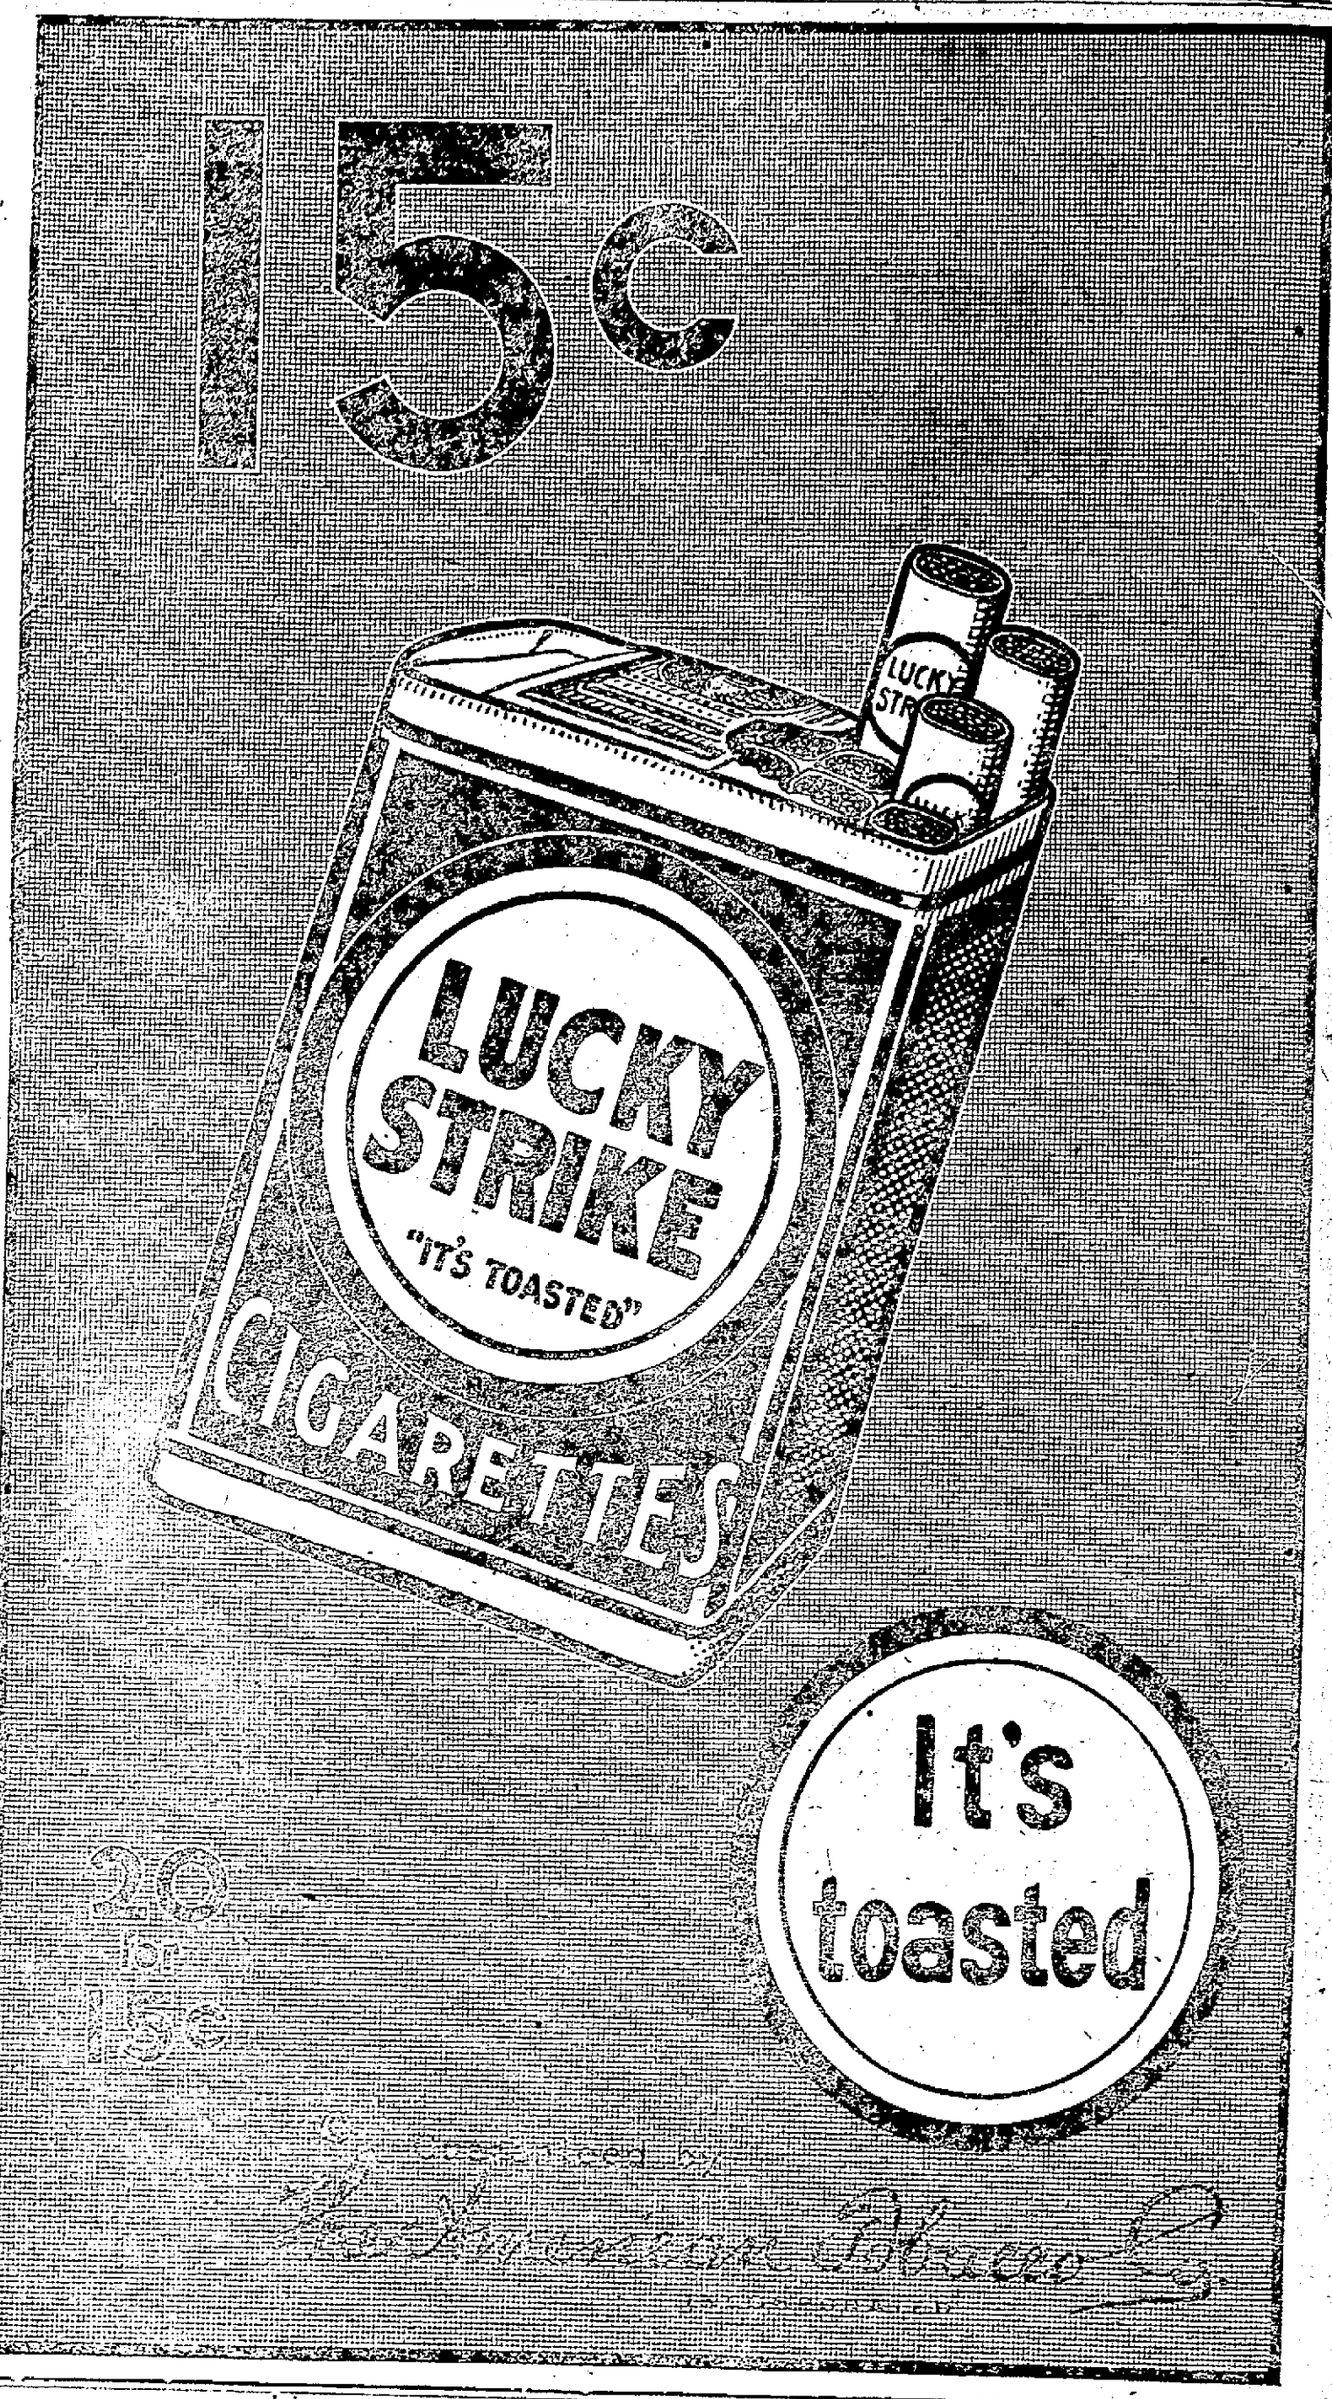

Snook Badly Injured.

Snook, the handsome mascot of Cornell Hose Company, was struck by an auto Friday afternoon on Abeel street. Snook is a coach dog and was born and raised in the engine house. He was the property of Fireman Larue Weber, and was one of the best known dogs in the city. He attended all fires with the hose company.

UNDERNEATH THE CITY HALL DOME

Wednesday evening the common council will hold a special meeting at which time the question of tinkering again with the city charter will be taken up. Some time ago the Kingston Taxpayers' Association filed with the council their idea of an ideal city charter, and there may be others who have ideas as to just what should or should not be included in the charter when finally revised.

Saturday Officer Fout notified the parents of a boy named Holle, residing at 24 Henry street, to appear in police court today and explain why the boy was allowed to shoot the rifle on the public street. There was no arrest made. It is a dangerous practice to allow boys to have rifles and the police are determined to wipe out the practice before any casualties follow.

Saturday night a citizen's call was turned in from police box No. 41 and Officer James V. Connelly hurried to the scene. It developed that a colored lady named Sampson had turned in the call. Everything was quiet when Officer Connelly arrived on the scene and he did not find it necessary to take any action.

There were no cases in police court today. During the absence of Judge Schirick from town Judge Shufeldt is presiding

Old Colony Coffee House Open Today

The Old Colony Coffee House, "The Sign of the Golden Coffee Pot"—and by the way that sign of a real golden coffee pot, hanging from a high set crane on the corner of the old stone house is much observed and admired and asked questions about, for it can be plainly seen the entire length of John street—opened its hospitable doors to the public today at noon. Judging from the number of patrons who visited the Coffee House at its opening, there will be an even larger attendance for the evening meal. Already the success of the Old Colony Coffee House is assured. In addition to the attractiveness of menus—which will be found daily in the "Business Notices" of The Freeman—the artistic arrangement of the Coffee House, one of Kingston's noted groups of Colonial houses and the many rare canvases to be seen upon the walls are adding materially to the popularity of the place. Another feature full appreciated by those taking prompt service an important item, especially for the noon lunch, is the cafeteria service. Undoubtedly the fact that Josh Rice Woodward and Miss Johnson have so many friends in Kingston will go far to spread abroad the good news of the delights of the Old Colony Coffee House, which seems to fill a long felt want in the community.

RED CROSS WONDERFUL.

In Comfort and Care It Affords, Says Cook Booth.

On Active Service With the American Expeditionary Force
October 20, 1918.

Editor Kingston Daily Freeman:

Dear Sir:—While I am in the care of one of the American Base Hospitals in France, I thought that I would write you a small piece, in regards as to the wonderful work the Red Cross is doing for the wounded soldiers in France.

It is well understood by all the soldiers, even the ones leaving from home to go to some National army camp, what a very lonely period it is for, unless each one with an encouragement.

And as his army life grows into weeks and months he still has the benefits of this wonderful work.

And now my being in the hospital I still see that they always stand ready to help us in whatever way that lies in their power.

First from the field of battle, they are standing ready to receive us, from the Field Ambulances into the Field Hospital, with cocoa and cakes, after a discomfort. Then after we have our wounds properly dressed, they give us some more cocoa and cakes.

Then we are taken to another hospital further back from the battle front where they find it possible to give us better care, as the Huns have not got the guns that will reach us there.

On our arrival at this hospital we are presented with pajamas and the Fourth Division, American E. F. bath robes also slippers which the different Red Cross societies have furnished to help make us warm and comfortable.

Next comes the wonderful work of our American doctors and nurses. There is not a thing that lies in their powers that they will not do for us and they handle our wounds with such care, in order not to hurt us any more than possible.

So all that I can say to the people of Kingston City is to help the American Red Cross. As they are sure doing wonderful work in France for the American E. F.

So I will remain with respect to the American Red Cross.

THE OTHER TWO MILLIONS.

Of the 4,000,000 men in military service nearly one-half are in camps in this country and these will soon be coming home. Some have been in camp for only a short time. Others have been a year or more in the service, but for one reason or another that was satisfactory to their superior officers have been retained in this country. In many cases these men were kept in camp because of superior ability as instructors, for not every person who possesses knowledge or skill has ability to impart it to others. Others were retained because of some slight physical defect that made them ineligible for overseas service but that did not impair their ability to do necessary camp work such as accounting, policing or drilling others. The number of men who remained in America because of a desire on their part to shirk danger is negligible when compared to the number that remained unwillingly but in obedience to orders. An army must eat and be clothed and transported as well as fight and it would be well to bear this fact in mind that it may act as a restraining influence upon those who are too prone to charge shirking against those who were never in battle. The man who obeys orders cheerfully and does his duty to the satisfaction of his superiors is entitled to full credit and is not a proper target for criticism and slighting remarks from either soldier or civilian. He will receive neither from those who think and understand. All honor to the men who did their duty at the front, but in order to render them the praise due it is not necessary to cast reflection upon those not permitted to go overseas.

THE KINGS DEPART.

At war's end "the captains and the kings depart," going their several ways, but in this instance, while the captains are still busy with unfinished business, the kings on one side of the battle line are literally disappearing or making a final exit. Of Teutonic kings, according to report, there is not one left. The former Emperor of Austria has abdicated, as has the former Emperor of Germany and King of Prussia. The lesser German Monarchs, the Kings of Bavaria, Saxony and Wurttemberg, and numerous little princelets, have followed suit. The whole structure of Teutonic royalty has collapsed before the storm created by the defeat of the "war lords" and the popular uprising. The "Socialist fury" sweeping Germany has caused the very uniforms to be torn from the backs of high military officers.

A few years ago, even a few months ago, all this was undreamed of. The downfall seems greatest in Germany, with its powerful, proud and insolent Hohenzollerns, but the descent is really the deepest and most humiliating in Austria, where the Hapsburg was the oldest dynastic house ruling a great European nation, with power reaching back even to the twelfth century and where mediævalism and ancient traditions of caste survived more vigorously than even in Germany. How Metternich would have groaned over the present ruins!—Metternich, Austria's powerful reactionary Minister who during the earlier part of the nineteenth century devoted his great talents toward the perpetuation of royal autocracy. The kings depart and it is high time, for the ablest of them have made a miserable mess of it.

PREVENTABLE FIRES.

In his Fire Prevention Day message to the American people President Wilson declared that "preventable fire is more than a private misfortune; it is a public devastation." This characterization is just. The fire due to carelessness that spreads concerns the government and the people generally as well as the individuals who suffer, and all are interested in measures to reduce the number of such calamities. Of the 22,083 fires in Greater New York alone last year 12,245 were in dwelling houses, and a report of the National Board of Underwriters shows that "the largest single causes were the careless handling of matches, cigarettes and smoking pipes, and children playing with matches."

It is interesting to learn that many more fires are caused by such carelessness in this country than in any other. The losses from fire per capita in eight countries in 1913 have been estimated as follows: United States $2.10, France 49c, England 33c, Germany 28c, Italy 25c, Austria 25c, Switzerland 25c, Holland 11c. In a number of countries far less in need of disciplinary measures than our own the authorities prosecute criminally those who are responsible for fires. It might be very difficult to fix the individual responsibility for most fires, but a determined effort would have a wholesomely awakening effect upon the habitually careless if not upon what may be termed the devil-may-care element.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"My friend is in paradoxical trouble." "What kind is that?" "He is in a hole because he couldn't find an opening."—Baltimore American.

Bacon—"When it comes to asking questions, a boy can't be beat." Egbert—"What's the reason he can't? Didn't you ever take a girl to a baseball game?"—Yonkers Statesman.

"Then, I understand that after your husband had made over all his money to you, you left him." "Yes; I couldn't live with a man who cheated his creditors like that."—Boston Transcript.

Officer—"Any particular branch of the service you'd like to connect with?" Recruit—"You'll make no mistake by putting me behind a machine gun, sir. I was chief camera man for a movie company that specialized in 'chase' stuff"—Buffalo Express.

Possibility.

The man's shirt front was far from spotless and his waist coat and coat were covered with grime and grease, but a large bunch of flowers was placed on the lapel of his coat.

"What do you think of this?" he said to a casual acquaintance, pointing to the bouquet.

"Don't know," admitted the other. "Perhaps it grew there."—Exchange.

A Question.

Farmer Turnipson had brought his young son David to the city to see the sights, and toward the end of a long day was dragging his fourteen stone up the steps of the great monument. Long before they reached the top the father was regretting that he had allowed his son to persuade him to undertake such a trying journey.

"Look, father!" exclaimed the boy when they had at last reached the top. "Isn't it a grand sight down there?"

"Well," puffed the elder Turnipson, "if it's so grand down there, what in the name of all that's wonderful did you bring me up here for?"—Exchange.

Breaking the News.

The nobility and gentry of Little Plowboro were recently gathered in the village school room to enjoy some tableaux vivants by local performers. The curtain had just fallen on a really creditable picture of the death of Nelson, shown to music.

"Keep your seats, please," said the stage manager. "We're much obliged for your kind applause, ladies and gentlemen, and we've going to give you the death of Nelson over again."

"Oh, are yer?" came from a friend of the man who was playing the chief part. "Then, if you'll tell Nelson 'is kitchen chimbly's afire and 'is wife's jest had a couple o' fits; p'raps 'e won't die so blessed lingerin.'"—Exchange.

Peace.

Peace is not an ideal at all; it is a state attendant upon the achievement of an ideal. The ideal itself is human liberty, justice, and the honorable conduct of an orderly and humane society. Given this, a durable peace follows naturally as a matter of course. Without this, there is no peace, but only a rule of force until liberty and justice revolt against it in search of peace.—N. M. Butler.

Seek Healthy View Point.

If you desire to possess a broad, healthy point of view, observe the horde of restless, unhappy men and women who have failed to find happiness through a worship of false gods, and who find it only after having found a purpose that would effectively serve humanity. They will teach you a lesson on the futility of striving after the things that serve no useful end, and a healthy viewpoint upon life.

There's no welcome too good for them

OUR BOYS are coming home; back from the battlefields of France and camps where they've brought fresh glory to America; and where they've helped to earn for the world a greater freedom and liberty.

This is a tribute to them; not as eloquent as the occasion deserves; but from the bottom of our hearts.

Our boys are coming back; some of them only in memory; but that memory must live and grow fresher as the days go on; and as we see the world enjoying the fruits of the greater freedom they've sown.

FOR INFORMATION ABOUT ALLOTMENTS

Home Service Section of Red Cross at Woman's Home Defense Office Ready to Answer Questions From Ulster County Soldiers' Families.

There seems to have been, recently, a little confusion as to just who to go to, either by telephone or letter, for parents, sisters and wives and children, to find out about allotments from soldiers, and other matters of this sort. The Woman's Home Defense of Ulster County has an office in the Hasbrouck building, 44 Main street, and hereafter that will be also the office where you can learn about allotments, if they are delayed, or any other piece of information needed. Mrs. Cornelia Hasbrouck will be the secretary of the Home Service Section of the Ulster County Chapter of the Red Cross, which looks after all these matters, and she will have her office as above stated, thanks to the generosity of the Woman's Branch of the Home Defense. The telephone number is 193. The Hon. Joseph M. Fowler is chairman of the Red Cross Home Service Section, and Mrs. Hasbrouck, the secretary will pass all questions which any member of any family of any soldier or sailor from Ulster county may ask.

Twice Cited for Bravery.

To have been cited by the French for bravery twice since his arrival in France in January is the record of Professor Stephen H. Bush of the University of Iowa. In the wake of the first official announcement came a lengthy cablegram with the details of his second citation. "Courage and tenacity in bringing in wounded over exposed places" were conspicuous on the part of Professor Bush, who is working for the Y. M. C. A. with the Moroccan divisions.

The cablegram further declares that the "French are devoted to Professor Bush and the other Y. M. C. A. workers in his division and are gaining a high opinion of Americans through contact with them." Professor Bush is head of the department of romance languages at the university.—Iowa University News Letter.

Teach Children Correct Speech.

After all, the best place to carry on a campaign for better speech is right in the home with the little circle that three times a day gathers about the dining room table, or perhaps it is only the kitchen table, it makes no difference, and the same little circle which in the evening gathers about the hearth. For it is the speech which we hear about us at home that clings to us through life.—Exchange.

The value of the estate as stated in the petition, is upward of $75,000 personal. Alice T. Fuller and Joseph M. Schaeffer are named as executors in the will. Judge James A. Betts is attorney for the executors.

Emotional Influence.

"Music has charms to soothe."

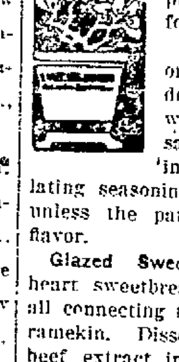

"Not always," protested Mr. Cumrox. "I always did get riled at one of those Wagner operas."

The KITCHEN CABINET

There is an idea abroad among moral people that they should make their neighbors good. One person I have to make good: myself.

MORE GOOD THINGS FOR SICK.

Vegetables which are tender and delicate such as asparagus tips, tender green onions, cauliflower and various other combinations which will occur to those who must prepare dainty foods or food for the sick.

Asparagus or green onions cooked until tender then served on toast with butter or a white sauce is good. A grating of nutmeg is a stimulating seasoning to add to any dish, unless the patient objects to the flavor.

Glazed Sweetbreads.—Parboil the heart sweetbread, drain and remove all connecting tissue, then place in a ramekin. Dissolve a teaspoonful of beef extract in two teaspoonfuls of boiling water, season with salt and paprika and pour over the sweetbread. Cook in a hot oven basting often. When glazed over transfer to a hot dish, surround with seasoned hot peas and serve at once.

Cabbage, when it is allowed is very nice shredded very fine, crisped in cold water and served after drying well with French dressing. This salad is especially good to follow the sweetbread.

As English sparrows are so numerous this year of conservation would be a good time to put four and twenty into a pie. They may be skinned feathers and all, it takes but a few minutes to prepare them and one broiled in paper is excellent for a tidbit for the invalid. If there seems to be any objection to the bird itself, why tell them all the details. The sparrow is a grain eating bird and there should be absolutely no more objection to them than to the squab or pigeon.

A simple salad such as head lettuce with French dressing may often be served, chopped celery, shredded lettuce, cottage cheese, as well as water cress are all good at times.

Flaked Eggs.—Break two eggs into a bowl and beat just long enough to mix well, put one-fourth of a cupful of milk in a small pan and when scalding stir in the eggs and cook until the white is in flakes. Season with salt and turn over buttered toast that has been softened in hot milk. Serve very hot, garnish with parsley.

TO REDUCE WAR WORKERS GRADUALLY

Expenditures of Nation to be Cut as Rapidly as Possible Without Unnecessary Hardships.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Peace economies which will lead to a gradual rather than a precipitate reduction of war workers in various government departments and bureaus probably will be the recommendation of the house appropriations committee to congress when that body begins its short session on December 2, a member of congress stated today.

While Representative Sherley, of Kentucky, chairman of the committee, shares the opinion with others of its members, that the expenditures of the government should be reduced as rapidly and as extensively as is found practicable, there is no disposition on his part to recommend a policy of retrenchment that might result in thousands of federal workers suddenly being thrown out of employment.

It is reported that many war workers have already received a strong intimation from certain bureau heads that their services will soon be no longer required but certain congressional leaders are said to take the view that to abruptly dismiss such workers, especially those who came to Washington from distant points, would be to inflict unnecessary hardships upon them.

At the same time, a gradual and steady cut in the civil lists is favored, especially those involved in the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill for the fiscal year beginning July 2, 1919, hearings on which the house appropriations committee resumed today, and will continue not only during all of next week but well into the approaching short session.

A member of the committee pointed out that government developments were operating under existing appropriations and would continue to do so until the expiration of the present fiscal year on June 30, 1919. Unless congress decides to cut into some of these appropriations, money would be available for the operation of departments and bureaus until that time.

Chairman Sherley has received assurances from department and bureau heads, with whom he has conferred since his return to Washington, that they propose voluntarily to effect savings wherever possible and, although the "unscrambling" of the war work they regard as essential to peace economies to which the taxpayers of the country are entitled, they desire to avoid the dangers which sudden disorganization would invite.

Thanksgiving at St. John's.

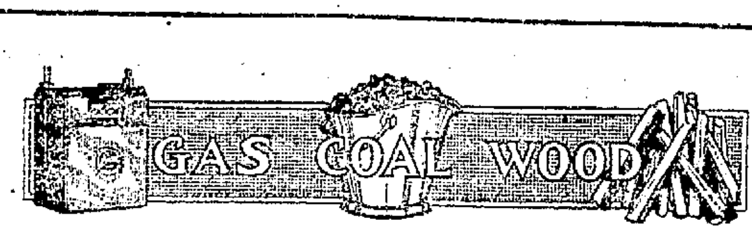

In order to maintain the custom in practice for a number of years at St. John's Episcopal Church, Wall street of receiving gifts of food at Thanksgiving time, as a Harvest Home celebration, and yet to make it possible for the congregation to attend the general Thanksgiving service at the High School on Thanksgiving Day, the customary Harvest Home festival will be celebrated at the church on Wall street on Wednesday evening, next, Thanksgiving Eve, at 8 o'clock, and all who have gifts to bring in thanks for this greatest of all Thanksgiving Days, are asked to bring them to the church in ample time for their proper arrangement on the altar. These gifts will, later, be distributed among the needy families in the city so far as is possible. On Thanksgiving Day, there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at the church at 8 o'clock in the morning. The congregation will join with those of the other churches of the city in the general Thanksgiving celebration at the High School, the Rev. Dr. Leighton Williams, being the preacher.

Athleticism in the East

The general athletic awakening is perhaps the most important effect that our occupation of the Philippines has had upon the far East. Just as the old Olympic games, begun by one village, grew to be the great recurrent event at which all the Hellenic peoples could meet in peaceful competition, so the modern athletic movement, starting from Bag[illegible], has spread to other far eastern peoples and has given them not only a ground for friendly meeting but also a basis for genuine respect and mutual understanding.

WAR STAMP SALES WILL BE BOOSTED

Gen. Pershing's Personality to Be Injected Into Drive.

BIG PUSH THANKSGIVING WEEK

Movement Is Planned During Thanksgiving Week as a Tribute to General Pershing and Our Gallant Boys "Over There" Who Fought to Safeguard Right and Justice

Fitting honors for Pershing! A tribute that will make those piercing eyes sparkle with enthusiasm is to be paid to the commander of our fighting boys.

There is to be a Pershing Tribute Thanksgiving Week Campaign and the time is close at hand.

The energetic enthusiastic workers who are behind the distribution of the millions of War Saving Stamps have formulated a particularly happy plan that centers round the individuality of America's great General of the World War—Pershing.

Thanksgiving week is to be known as Pershing Tribute Week. It is being planned for observance throughout New York state and it is the earnest hope of those who are taking such a vital interest in it that it will mark the flood tide of War Stamp selling.

Every household every individual is to be asked to buy War Saving Stamps the week beginning Saturday, Nov. 23 and ending Nov. 28, Thanksgiving Day.

The name of every person who buys War Saving Stamps on or before Thanksgiving Day will be sent to General Pershing on a Christmas greeting to the boys "over there."

Country Is Prosperous.

Thanksgiving comes this year to a prosperous people, business is good, the harvests are plentiful, our army has won in the foreign field.

As we sit down in the security of our homes to enjoy the Feast of Thanksgiving special thought, in an earnest and prayerful way, will be given to the boys in every branch of service and to our military leader.

Every household has learned of War Saving Stamps. Economic authorities have stated that the lesson of thrift that the people of the United States are learning as the result of the war will be one of the blessed heritages that this generation will [illegible] to posterity.

Rich and poor alike—all are taking a vital personal interest in War Stamps. The small amounts that have been spent in a heedless way are now in thousands of instances, being added to the savings gained through the purchase of government securities represented by War Saving Stamps.

Facts About War Saving Stamps

War Saving Stamps are the answer of a great democracy to the demand for a democratic form of government security. They are little baby bonds. Like Liberty Bonds they have behind them the entire resources of the government and people of the United States. They have the additional advantage that they steadily increase in value from the date of purchase until the date of maturity and this increase is guaranteed by the government. These stamps are issued in two denominations, the 25 cent stamp and the $5 stamp.

For the convenience of investors a "Thrift Card" is furnished to all purchasers of 25 cent stamps. This card has spaces for 16 stamps. When all the spaces have been filled the Thrift Card may be exchanged for a $5 stamp at postoffices, banks or other authorized agencies by adding a few pennies.

Those who prefer may buy a $5 stamp outright. These automatically increase in value a cent a month every month until Jan. 1, 1923 when the United States will pay $5 at any postoffice or at the Treasury in Washington for each stamp affixed to a War Saving Certificate.

War Stamps Cost $4.22 This Month.

War Saving Stamps pay 4 per cent compounded quarterly, if held until 1923, and if presented at the postoffice before that time pay 3 per cent simple interest.

They are "Baby Bonds" secured by the $25,000,000,000 resources of the United States of America.

For the safekeeping of War Saving Stamps you get a War Savings Certificate and for the safekeeping of the War Thrift Stamps you get a Thrift Card.

This planning of a Pershing Tribute Thanksgiving week campaign is a happy thought—it connects up through popular enthusiasm, the American General and the thrift of the American people. It comes at a time when, through long established custom handed down from the early New England settlers, each household meets together in prayerful thankfulness for the blessings of Providence, and this year we add our thanks for the successful conclusion of the mighty struggle in France.

Such an occasion is an opportune time for practical thrift and the lending of money to the government to help conclude the war responsibilities that have come to the United States through our participation in the world war for democracy and right.

Questions and Answers.

Simple explanation follows regarding buying and handling War Saving Stamps.

Q. Where can I buy War Stamps?

A. At postoffices, banks and authorized agencies.

Q. Does the price of a War Saving Stamp always remain the same?

A. No. The price for each month appears on the face of each stamp. Never pay either more or less than the amount shown for the month in which you make the purchase. The price increases 1 cent each month until December, 1918, when the price is $4.23.

Q. Why is the price higher each month?

A. Because the stamps are earning interest.

Q. Is the money received from War Saving Stamps and Thrift Stamps used for the same purpose as money received from Liberty Bonds?

A. Yes.

Q. Should I take money out of the saving bank to buy War Saving Stamps?

A. No. You should save as much as you can every day and buy War Saving Stamps with these savings.

Q. Can I sell or transfer my War Savings Certificate to anyone?

A. No. The certificate is not transferable and is of value to the owner only, except in case of death or disability.

Q. Should a married woman use her own or her husband's name when registering?

A. Her own—Mrs. Mary Brown, not Mrs. John Brown.

Q. If I lose some detached stamps can I get my money back?

A. No. These stamps are of value to the bearer, just as postage stamps are.

Q. If it is necessary before Jan. 1, 1923, to have money for my War Savings Certificate, how can I get it?

A. If it is not registered, take it to any money order postoffice and it will be redeemed, after ten days' written demand, as prescribed by the rules of the Postoffice Department. If registered, take it to postoffice where registered.

Q. Is the postoffice the only place where I can surrender my War Saving Certificate before its maturity and get my money back?

A. Yes.

Q. If I should find it necessary to surrender my War Saving Certificate for cash, what rate of interest would I receive on my investment?

A. A little less than 3 per cent. The value of a stamp for each month is shown in the following table:

Month	1918	1919	1920	1921	1922
January	$4.12	$4.24	$4.36	$4.48	$4.60

No Time for That.

Kathryn came running to her mother crying as though her heart would break. Between sobs she said that a dog had frightened her. Her mother, trying to divert her attention said, "What kind of a tail did the dog have?" Kathryn sobbed: "Ho, was 'spose I stopped to look at his tail?"

Remembered Mother's Answer.

Little Harry one day asked his mother who made the trees and was told that God made them. A few days later an old colored man came to trim the trees and the little fellow, seeing him at work, ran to his mother and exclaimed: "Oh, mamma, God's out in the yard trimming his trees!"

Well Called Devil's Belt.

Long Island sound, in New York, was known before the revolution, and perhaps later, as the Devil's Belt, as may be seen on Sauthier's map of New York in the Revolution. It had Hell Gate at one end and the nearly as dangerous Race at the other.

DISTRIBUTE SOLDIER BALLOTS TUESDAY

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, Nov. 25.—Ballots cast in the last general election by New York state soldiers and sailors will be opened tomorrow morning at the secretary of state's office preparatory to shipment to the various county election boards in the state. Shipment will continue daily until the estimated 25,000 ballots are distributed. They will be canvassed in election districts December 17.

Up to early this afternoon, although this is the last day for the filing of election receipts and expenditures statements, the Democratic state committee statement had not been filed at the secretary of state's office. The New York county Democratic committee received $143,885 in contributions for the campaign and expended $140,978. The receipts for this organization totalled more than the contributions given the Republican state committee. Loans, however, to the Republican state committee, brought its receipts up to over $400,000.

The New York county Republican committee had receipts of $50,730 and spent $50,089.

NEW YORK'S WAR WORK QUOTA RAISED

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Nov. 25.—Workers of the United War Work Campaign were confident today that with the final extension of the drive, they had succeeded in obtaining New York's quota of $35,000,000.

Among the largest of the latest contributions were an additional $50,000 from the Standard Oil Co. and $25,000 from the Consolidated Gas Co.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Nov. 25.—There was no change in speculative conditions at the opening of the stock market today, there being little demand for stocks from speculative interests and wide movements were confined to a few issues.

Marine Preferred was again influenced by the expectation that a meeting will be held today or at some other close date to again discuss the sale of the British line, and that stock made a gain of one point to 108¼. There was the usual buying of Mexican Petroleum which, after advancing 1¼ to 162, dropped to 158. Steel Common opened at 99⅞ and then advanced to 100½ but soon lost this advance when a moderate supply appeared. The railway stocks were influenced over the uncertainty over the government control and there was liquidation in a number of those issues, Southern Pacific falling 1½ to 100⅝. Union Pacific, which opened ¼ up at 130½, yielded to 129¾. Balwin was the most active of the steel industrials, declining 1¼ to 74¾.

The market was weak throughout the forenoon on the money situation and the political condition. There were selling orders in large blocks in the hands of many important dealers and as the banking regulations prevented expansion of loans, other interests could not buy on any fully large scale. The result was severe declines in many issues. The railroad stocks were directly influenced by the uncertainty over the policy of government regulation and most of them yielded from 1 to 3 points. Southern Pacific dropped 2¼ to 100, while Union Pacific fell from 130½ to 128⅜ and Reading reacted nearly two points to 84½. Marine Preferred was about the only strong feature, selling at 108¼, a gain of over one point. Steel Common held comparatively steady around 100 while Baldwin dropped to 74⅝. American Smelting dropped over 1 point to 82¾, and Studebaker reacted to 55. Mexican Petroleum fell to 155½, a loss of 6½ points from the early high.

The market continued extremely weak in the afternoon. Steel Common dropping to 98½; Bethlehem Steel B to 61¾, and Baldwin to 72¾. The railroad stocks also suffered severe losses, Union Pacific falling to 127½; Southern Pacific to 98½, and Reading to 81, a loss of over five points. Marine Preferred was in large supply on reports from Washington that the government had halted the deals for the sale of its British ship. That stock dropped nearly eight points from its high to 100⅜. Mexican Petroleum, after falling over seven points to 154¾, moved up to 157.

The market closed weak; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

The town of Wawarsing has indeed a right to feel proud of its record in the recent Ulster county war chest drive. With an allotment that many thought too large, $15,000, Chairman Coons reports a total subscription of over $19,000 and some yet to report. A fine record and the boys "over there" will take notice that the folks back home in Wawarsing are no quitters. Amounts by districts are to be given later. One of the big features is the sum pledged by the Victory Boys and Girls, $1,150, a grand sum.

At the Reformed Church on Sunday the services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Walter S. Maines, who delivered at the morning service a very able sermon. He had for his theme "The Challenge of a Great Task," 1st Timothy 5-8. His large thought was based upon the subject, "Immigration," a timely subject from a Christian's view point. Hymns appropriate were sung and the choir rendered a fine anthem, Miss Demarest taking the solo part in beautiful voice. The theme of the pastor's evening address was "A Universal Thanksgiving."

PRIVATE ZEEH'S NARROW ESCAPE

One Bullet Went Through Pants Leg, And Never Even Scratched Him—Police Commissioner Zeeh Gets Letter Dated October 20.

Police Commissioner and Mrs. Peter P. Zeeh have received a letter from their son, Private Joseph Zeeh, under date of October 20, in which he states that while he had had a number of narrow escapes he was all right yet. He is with Headquarters Company, 306th Infantry. His letter follows

"This is the first chance I have had to write to you in about a month I have been in the woods since last I wrote you, and could not get any paper or send any mail and am still in the same fix. I got this paper by luck and will try and get this letter through to you

"I received all your mail as well as other mail, and I don't know how to start to answer it I got so much that I have forgotten half the things that were in the letters. I was the only one in the platoon who got mail one day I made up for the whole bunch. I got about a dozen Zeeh was the lucky fellow that day Pa says in his letter to try and write every week Gosh I would love to write every day but what can I do when I don't even have a chance to wash my hands or face in three weeks The scarcity of water was one of the main reasons We had to save all we could to drink.

"You can tell every one who wrote me that I received their mail and will try and answer it some time. I have had some very narrow escapes lately My raincoat looks like a sieve and one bullet went through my pants, drawers, and all, right at the knee where it hits right and it never even scratched me The boys all call me George Washington I am so lucky, but I think my Sacred Heart badge has a whole lot to do with it.

If you don't hear from me don't worry as I write as often as I can and if we get our furlough as I hear I will send you a cablegram when I get to some town. Our regiment has been cited for bravery four times, and we expect a vacation for our good work. I have been over here six months now and am entitled to wear a service stripe. It seems like six years I have heard a whole lot about peace rumors lately but don't know how true they are. We got Fritz going some now and I guess he knows he is beat

"I got a bath yesterday, the first in two months, and also a complete outfit from head to foot Am some sport for a while.

The Camp Dix bunch passed us in the night one night and I yelled is there anybody from Kingston and Gruberg and George Tierney answered me.

CHURCH FLOURISHES.

Anonymous $500 Gift Calls Attention to Remarkable Showing.

Rev. F. W. Moot, pastor of the Ponckhockie Union Church, Congregational, gave his people a very pleasant surprise at the close of the service Sunday night, when he held before the congregation a check for $500 which he had received for a friend of the church. At the request of the donor the name of this generous friend was withheld. The gift will be applied to the parsonage debt.

The success and growth of this church has been very remarkable. Although organized only three years ago, they have a membership of over two hundred, nearly one-half of which were never before members of any church. They have purchased a church and four lots, and last year built a beautiful parsonage. The property now is worth at least $20,000. During the year, 1918, the church has laid new carpet on the floor of the auditorium and Sunday school room at an expense of $450 and by the close of the year will have paid $1,100 on the parsonage debt, leaving only $1,300. The services of the church are well attended and every department flourishing.
